Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of Bombay in the General Department (Plague), No. 6350—6455-P., dated Bombay Castle, the 21st November 1898.

READ—

Extract from a report by Khan Saheb Fazl Ahmed accompanying Political Agent, Kathiwar's No. 1082, dated the 8th October 1898 :—

"His expectoration contains blood which in similar cases at Karachi was found, under microscope, to be full of bacilli. This variety of plague I have found the most contagious. I have seen five persons attacked, one after the other, by attending on a typical case of plague-pneumonia. These cases generally die within 48 hours. The case alluded to also ended fatally. Memon Hospital is not a place suited at all for the treatment of such cases. There all the patients are placed in a number of large rooms side by side, a circumstance highly prejudicial in pneumonic cases especially. Fortunately a little room was available at the time and the patient was accommodated therein. The attendants were instructed not to sit facing the mouth of the patient, and a spittoon containing mercury lotion was provided for receiving expectoration."

Letter to the Municipal Commissioner for the City of Bombay, No. 5962-P., dated the 21st October 1898 :—

"I venture to send for your information an extract from a report by Khan Saheb Fazl Ahmed, who has done very good service indeed. I do so because you kindly let me see Dr. Gibson's report on the Mahratta Hospital, where somewhat similar advice is given. It may be worth while to consult your medical advisers whether the pneumonic type should not be treated in separate wards with much greater air space and whether such cases should be left in houses."

Memorandum from the Municipal Commissioner of the City of Bombay, No. P.—815, dated the 28th October 1898 :—

Forwards copy of the following letter from Lieutenant-Colonel J. S. Wilkins, I. M. S., Special Medical Officer for Plague Operations, dated the 26th idem :—

"With reference to letter No. 5962-P. of 1898, from the Honorable Mr. A. Wingate, I beg to state that orders have already been issued by me to the hospitals that all pneumonic plague cases are to be isolated, and I have pointed out the danger of treating these cases in general wards. I am strongly of opinion that no pneumonic cases should be treated in private houses, unless, in the opinion of the Medical Officer of the district, the room occupied by the case is suited for a complete isolation of such case, and that proper control over the number of attendants could be had ;"

and adds that circular orders in the direction indicated by the Special Medical Officer are being issued to District Officers.

Extract from the Diary of the District Plague Officer, Tumkur district, from the 8th up to the 20th January 1899.

"Sunday the 15th, convened a meeting of the inhabitants of the Kunigal town. Discussed the plague measures with them and warned them of the danger they would be incurring by the relaxation of their vigilance, and advised them to act with unanimity in warding off the disease. They then held a meeting of their own, raised subscriptions for the maintenance of the outposts and entered into a compact with each other not to admit into their houses any person from an infected area though he might be their nearest relative, and bound themselves to pay a fine of Rs. 20 to the Panchayet in case of any infringement. They appointed their own men to inspect houses daily and to report new arrivals to the Panchayet. A system of house-to-house inspection was thus introduced, and it depends upon the Amildar to make it a success."

Extract from the Diary of the District Plague Officer, Tumkur district, dated 19th January 1899.

(1) Kaiser Madoo.—This is a large village inhabited chiefly by respectable Mahomedans of the priestly class. Its population is 485. Found that the village was completely evacuated. The families of Mahomedan priests were living in thatched sheds run up for the occasion in open fields. They appeared to have accommodated themselves to these altered circumstances. There were in all 25 attacks in the village with 19 deaths. At the time of inspection 6 patients were under treatment, and they were progressing satisfactorily. There have not been any attacks since the 16th.

(2) Bairsandra.—This is a large village with a population of 451. There were 20 attacks and 17 deaths in the village. The village suffered most as immediate information of the outbreak was not sent to the authorities. The patel himself was the first to be attacked. The infection was brought, it appears, by the patel's brother from the Nelamangala taluk. The village was evacuated on the 18th of December 1898 immediately after the receipt of the information, but a week after the occurrence of the first case. No case has occurred since the 9th January 1899.

(3) Bagdenhalli.

About a month ago one Kempayya and his servant Mudlingayya, who were living in a highly infected locality at Tumkur, went to Bagdenhalli to the house of Haliah, brother of Mudlingayya. They had not stopped there long when they were ejected out of the village by the inhabitants. They went then to Sigihalli in the Gubbi taluk, were attacked there and died. In the meantime, Haliah vacated his house as a precautionary measure and lived in another house. Up to the 5th instant there was no sickness in his family, and thinking that there was no danger in occupying his old house he removed his family to that house. On the 6th, his son aged 4 years died suddenly, and it was stated to the patel that he died of ulcers. On the 10th Haliah and another member of his family were attacked, and they died on the 12th. They were found on examination to have died of plague. The infection must have been left in the house by the Tumkur people who died subsequently of plague.

(4) Tumkur town.—During the current week, there were 13 attacks and 10 deaths as against 21 attacks and 8 deaths of the last week. There has been a gradual decrease since the 20th December last. There were no fresh attacks on the 19th (Thursday) and 20th (Friday) and 21st (Saturday) also.
